

Truth School League: 5 simple tips that make it easier to match

Here are a few tips but will make your game easier in Truth Arena LOL

After a short delay, now, League of Legends players have had a chance to experience the Truth Arena. The flag mode is inspired by the game Dota Auto Chess.

However, gamers who haven't played through Dota Auto Chess will feel that the Truth Arena is still quite strange and when entering the game will not know what to do. Leading to the experience of the game will not be as good.

If you just downloaded the LMHT Truth Arena to your computer and don't know where to start, refer to the tips and instructions under this article to start playing chess with other players.

Simple but effective Tips for the Truth Arena

1. No need to join forces on the ring

In the Truth Arena, you don't need to join all the chess pieces that are present on the ring. Often you will need a general who possesses the ability to Wide-scale (Sejuani, Gnar, Cho'Gath), of course, these generals do not need to join forces.

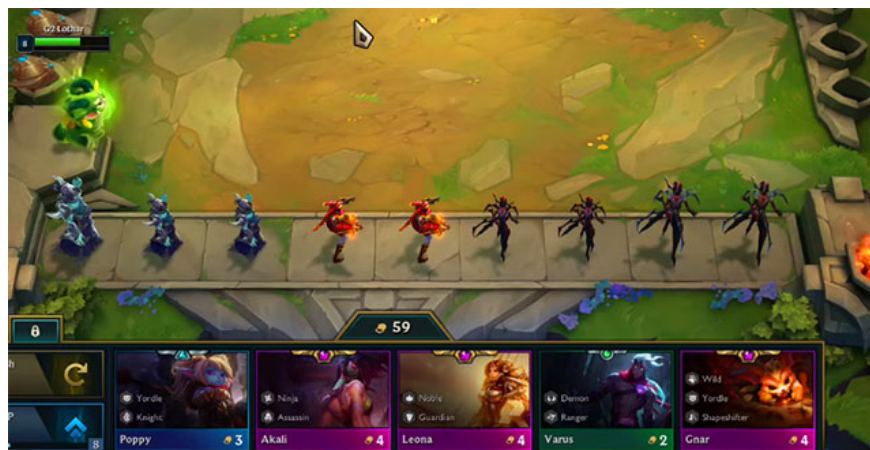

2. Save money

If possible, save gold to the maximum extent, no need to rotate the ring if the amount you have is not much. Unless you want to upgrade your squad or buy EXP. Don't even try to build your lineup with free rounds of appearances each time.

Gold in Truth Arena is power. So the more gold you can store, the more advantages you have over other competitors.

3. Keep the yellow mold

In the Truth Arena, it is not so important to buy the wrong general because you will still get a 100% payback when selling the general. Unless you are 2 or 3 stars, you should not sell.

If possible, try to keep the amount of gold at even the best milestones (10, 20, 30, 40,50) or at milestones like 9, 19, 29, 39, 49 if you believe the game You will win, before jumping into the new round.

4. Little Legends

This trick is not very good, if not it is a bad play. You can use lots of Little Legends emoticons and actions to distract your opponents.

5. Win, lose by time

You need to know when to win and when to give up. If you deliberately lose before the round to get a champion, you will have a chance to receive a strong chess piece, or at least have a good equipment to build a squad according to your will.

You may not believe it but with the simple League of Truth game tips above can help build the team and win in a very relieved way in the game.
