

Two disposable email services help eliminate Spam

There are many reasons why we need to use the One-Time Email service, which helps you be like a spy sending and receiving messages secretly.

TipsMake.com - There are many reasons why we need to use disposable Email service, it helps you like a spy to send and receive messages secretly. In the most important reason, sometimes you just want to download free eBooks, programs but don't want to be disturbed by sales newsletters, service information that is considered spam often sent to the box my letter.

Previously we have guided you on 3 temporary email services to avoid spam, today QuanTang would like to introduce 2 more services with new features.

1. 10 Minute Mail

10 Minute Mail gives you a random email address and inbox within 10 minutes. This time is enough for you to register and activate certain services online, then disappear and there is no chance for spam. Here is how 10 Minute Mail works:

First you visit the address 10minutemail.com, copy the temporary email address that appears on the homepage.

When all is done, the email will expire after a 10-minute period. A message telling you that the email has been destroyed. If you want to use another email, click the Get another e-mail address link to get a new one:

2. MailNull

MailNull is another service that provides temporary email addresses. The difference from the above service is that you have more time to send and receive emails. In essence, MailNull does the same thing as 10 Minute Mail. Here's how to do it:

First to be able to use you need to register an account on this service. This is to limit lazy users and spammers. MailNull will record your IP address when registering. Note that you need to enter your actual email address to confirm.

A screenshot of the 'Account Creation' form on the Quantrimang website. The title 'Account Creation' is in large black font, with the 'Quantrimang' logo to its right. Below the title is a note: 'NOTE: the following form is submitted securely via the SSL (https) protocol. SSL.' The form contains several fields: 'Account Name: [input box] (Required)', 'Email address: [input box] (Required)', 'Password: [input box] (Required)', and 'Confirm: [input box] (Required)'. There are two buttons at the bottom: 'Create Account (SSL)' and 'Reset Form'. The text 'Please enter an existing email address where messages to your mailnull page if you are worried about what we will do with your email address.' is positioned between the email and password fields.

Your account name will be prefix before the email name. For example we enter the name quantrimang so the email address will be quantrimang.demo@mailnull.com . Specify the lifespan of this address by entering a message amount or time.

At this time, email addresses can be used. When you receive a reply sent to this email, it will automatically forward to the real email address. MailNull will filter spam emails to retain the system and not send the user's actual email.

Conclude

Both of these temporary email services have its advantages. You can use it to register on services, make temporary logins for testing services or other purposes that may require the removal of email addresses. MailNull is a bit more complicated but has better features, while 10 Minute Mail is useful in case you want to do something quickly.
