

Ultrabook Acer Aspire S7 weighs 1 kg, 12 mm thin

Ultrabook Acer Aspire S7 running Windows 8 has a slim design of about 12 mm, multi-touch screen supports up to 10 fingers, equipped with 3rd generation Intel Core i processor and weighs about 1 kg.

Ultrabook Acer Aspire S7 running Windows 8 has a slim design of about 12 mm, multi-touch screen supports up to 10 fingers, equipped with 3rd generation Intel Core i processor and weighs about 1 kg.

Acer Aspire S7 equipped with 3rd generation Intel Core i processor, Ivy Bridge code, provides up to 12 hours of use with extended battery options, SSD static drive, 4 GB RAM, Intel HD 4000 integrated graphics Support Microsoft DirectX 11.

It has an 11.6-inch CineCrystal LED-backlit display for 1920 x 1080 Full HD resolution, 16: 9 aspect ratio. Users can set up the ability to support up to 3 independent screens. In addition, the device is equipped with USB 3.0 connections, micro-USB support HDCP and headphone / microphone jacks.

Acer Aspire S7 Ultrabook running Windows 8 operating system is offered for $ 1300 for the version equipped with Intel Core i5 processor, while the version using the Core i7 processor costs $ 1700. The product will be available on October 26, when Microsoft releases Windows 8.

You finished reading the article "Ultrabook Acer Aspire S7 weighs 1 kg, 12 mm thin" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.