The incredible coincidences that happened in the history below make many people shudder. Is this simply a strange coincidence or is there some mysterious mystery hidden inside?

1. A 3,000-year-old Egyptian sphinx and Michael Jackson

Built between 1550-1050 BC, the statue of the Sphinx in New Kingdom made archaeologists around the world not be surprised. With slanted eyes, a slightly thin cheek, thin nose and lips, this limestone statue is very similar to the face of the pop king Michael Jackson.

A statue from 3000 years ago why is it like a person today? Is there anything mysterious here?

2. The strangeness in the death of two brothers

Twin tragedy
Erskine Lawrence Ebbin was knocked down by a taxi and killed in Hamilton, Bermuda — and it was the same taxi with the same driver, carrying the same passenger, that killed his brother Neville in July last year.
And both brothers were riding the same moped and died, aged 17, on the same street, police said.

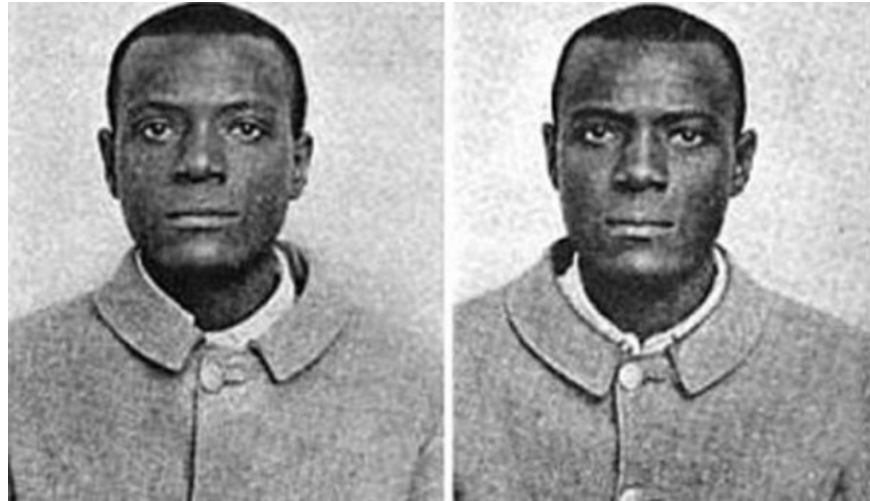

This is probably the most bizarre coincidence in history. Erskine Lawrence and Neville Ebbin are one year older brothers. They both perished while running with a motorbike, colliding with the same taxi, with the same driver, specially carrying the same passenger on the same road. Two accidents occurred on the same day, a year apart.

3. Enzo Ferrari the founder of Ferrari and player Mesut Ozil is like him

Enzo Ferrari, the founder of the Italian sports car line, died in 1988. Mesut Ozil, the key player of the German national team born in 1988. Two people are not related by blood, not even the same ethnicity but the same as casting. More amazing is that Mesut was born to be born in the year Ferrari died.

4. Birth history of fingerprint verification

For the first time, William West set foot in Leavenworth prison in 1903. But strangely, an employee here claimed that William had been to prison. When he checked the register, William was shocked to see his name and photo in it. In fact, there is a same man

5. To death is still struck by lightning

Summerford, a British army officer was struck by lightning and paralyzed from the waist down. In 1924, he was hit again by lightning when he was in Canada. Two years later, he died but it seemed that "he" still didn't "ignore" him. Four years after his death, a lightning bolt struck them at his grave.

6. Mark Twain and Halley comet

Before it took a year, Mark Twain said: "I came to Halley Comet in 1835. It will come again next year, and I look forward to going out with it. my life if I don't go out with Halley comet ".

In 1835, Mark Twain was born on the day of Halley's comet. In 1910, when Comet Halley returned, Mark Twain also died.
