A man walking in a park in Scotland has returned to the video of his dog carefree playing oddly with the wild fox. Some people even believe that both animals think they are the same species.

Kris McDonald said he was walking with his dog Cricket in Glasgow's Downhill Park and then they met a wild fox.

McDonald shared, the fox was very friendly, so he dropped the chain of his pet dog Cricket so they could both have fun.

The owner of the dog had filmed the movie of the dog Cricket and the fox followed each other in turn around the park. This video also shows that the fox came close to the camera to rest in the middle of the chase after playing with Cricket.

McDonald said Cricket had a very similar appearance to a fox, so the fox believed that his dog and his dog had the same thought that this fox was the same as many other dogs.
