Instructions for using Glider Rules of Survival

Glider cars in Rules of Survival have a maximum speed of about 100km / h and a durability of 140. This vehicle will now appear in two locations near the 42-hill area and the island area below the near map. Hero's Ridge area .

According to experience you should search for this type of flying vehicle in Area 42 area.

In the Area 42 area, look for places with a high position and then proceed to slope and soar, avoiding hitting other obstacles and gaining momentum. Gamers need to prepare more fuel to prevent it except when the vehicle runs out of fuel, even if this Glider flying car doesn't cost too much fuel.

Once you find your flying car, you first need to move at a moderate pace to avoid rapid acceleration. Then press the take-off button to the right of the screen to slowly bring the car up and speed up gradually. The control of Glider flying vehicles as well as other vehicles.

The disadvantage when you fly high with the Glider is that the size is large so it is easily detected by the enemy and cannot use weapons to attack the opponent. So while flying, players should be alert when flying over buildings, or responding to teammates.

In particular, if you encounter an enemy from below attack, quickly hit the steering wheel, increase the speed to escape from the shot area. Since we cannot use weapons, the fastest strategy when being attacked by the enemy is to fly as quickly as possible from that place.

In addition, gamers need to remember not to let Glider fly into the water. If the car touches the car water disappears immediately. Fly high above the water if you cross the river.

Of course, when initially using the Glider flying vehicle in Rules of Survival, the player will have a bit of trouble getting used to the car, as well as how to move the car, controlling the parking buttons that fly in the air or against the wind. Through time to practice driving, you will be more fluent and also experienced when driving a car.
