

Users do not need to find a place to replace the iPhone battery, but can put the battery with Apple

Apple has tested a program that allows battery storage via the iPhone Support app in Canada.

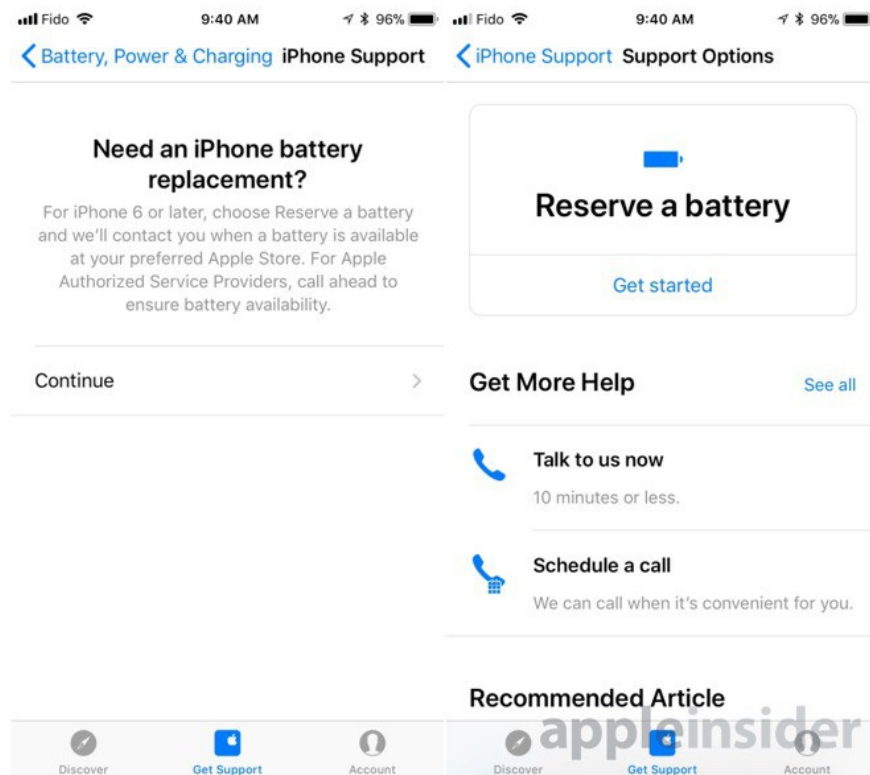

After confirming the slowdown of iPhone battery, Apple has apologized to users and launched a cheap iPhone battery replacement program from $ 79 to just $ 29. Since then, Apple Store stores in Vietnam and all over the world have fallen into a row. In response to this situation, Apple has conducted a test program that allows battery storage via iPhone Support application in Canada.

To pre-set the battery for the iPhone model you want to replace, after opening the user app, click on the Get Support section and select the iPhone model to replace the new battery. Next, go to Battery, Power, Charging (battery, power, charging) section and select Reserve a Battery .

When the type of battery the user has placed has an item at Apple Store, a notification will be sent to them. If within 7 days after receiving the notice that the person who has not come to change the battery, the pre-order will be canceled and the battery will be added to the warehouse again.

Currently, this application is only being tested in Canada but it is likely that Apple will soon apply it to other markets.

See more:

1. The broken iPhone 6 Plus can be changed to iPhone 6S Plus from now until March
2. Guide to check battery level of iPhone, iPad 100% accurate data by analyzing Apple
3. Causes and ways to detect iPhone batteries are about to explode
4. iPhone 8 Plus fast battery bottle nearly 50% compared to the old iPhone?

5. iPhone battery exploded due to being bitten by customers to check quality

You finished reading the article "Users do not need to find a place to replace the iPhone battery, but can put the battery with Apple" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.

---