Contents of the Mounds of Mayhem update

Mounds of Mayhem is an ambitious update, bringing a wealth of new content to explore and conquer.

Underwater Mounds – Nautilus

The star of this update is Nautilus , a new sea creature appearing in the Ocean Biomes.

1. Taming method: Players can tame Nautilus by feeding them Prismarine Shard or Heart of the Sea .
2. Benefits: When riding the Nautilus, players gain an unlimited underwater breathing effect , making exploring Ocean Monuments and underwater ruins easier than ever.
3. Enhanced Defense: To protect their mount, players can also equip specialized Nautilus Armor .

Spear Weapons and New Combat Mechanism

The introduction of the Spear represents the biggest change in combat. This is a tiered weapon with two new attack types:

1. Jab Attack: A quick, short-range attack, ideal for attacking underwater mobs.
2. Charged Attack: A powerful spear throw that deals significant damage from a distance.
3. Lunge Enchantment: Spears can be enchanted with the new Lunge Enchantment , allowing players to perform more powerful lunges or knock back enemies.
4. Jousting: With the Spear, players can organize Jousting battles with friends on their mounts, creating a new dimension for PvP.

New and Dangerous Mob Enemies

Minecraft biomes will become more dangerous with the appearance of new rideable mobs and enemies:

1. Zombie Nautilus: Hostile mobs will ride Nautilus to attack players underwater, turning scuba diving into a real challenge.
2. Camel Husks and Parched Mobs: Desert Biomes are no longer safe havens. New mobs will appear, including hostile mobs that can ride Camel Husks to chase players.
3. Zombie Horse: Zombie horses have officially appeared in Survival Mode. You can encounter them at night, often ridden by other hostile mobs, creating chaotic encounters.
