

Viber is about to appear on Windows Phone 8

Information from the CEO of Viber for their free Internet name messaging and calling application is awaiting approval to appear on the Windows Phone platform's digital store.

Information from the CEO of Viber for their free Internet name messaging and calling application is awaiting approval to appear on the Windows Phone platform's digital store.

The waiting period for Microsoft approval is not long, so if there are no problems, Windows Phone users will soon be able to use this famous application.

The good thing is that Viber of Windows Phone will have all the features of iOS or Android including free calling or texting.

Reportedly, Viber has released a beta version for Windows Phone since last year but lacks an important feature of personal calling or group calling.

You finished reading the article "Viber is about to appear on Windows Phone 8" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.