

Vietnam is on the list of 50 countries with speeds of 4G / LTE faster than Wi-Fi

Up to 50 countries have speeds of 4G / LTE faster than Wi-Fi, in Southeast Asia there are Vietnam (2.9Mbps) and the Philippines (2Mbps) is also on this list.

In many people's minds, Wi-Fi seems to be faster and better than mobile data. But recent OpenSignal research shows that up to 30 countries around the world have faster mobile data download speeds than Wi-Fi.

Most countries in this group belong to Europe, Central Asia, Africa and South America. At the top is Australia with mobile data rate (13Mbps) faster than Wi-Fi. In Southeast Asia, only Myanmar (9.6Mbps) and Taiwan (1.6Mbps) entered this group. Even developed countries like Singapore, South Korea, Hong Kong and the United States are not on this list.

When separating the list of countries with speeds of 4G / LTE faster than Wi-Fi instead of just aggregating mobile data, OpenSignal said the results were much more amazing. Up to 50 countries have speeds of 4G / LTE faster than Wi-Fi, in Southeast Asia there are Vietnam (2.9Mbps) and the Philippines (2Mbps) is also on this list. Lebanon is the fastest 4G / LTE country, reaching 25Mbps much faster than Wi-Fi.
