

Viettel is licensed to test 5G network in Hanoi and Ho Chi Minh City

Viettel is the first network operator in Vietnam licensed by the Ministry of Information and Communications to test 5G network in two cities, Hanoi and Ho Chi Minh City.

Viettel is the first network operator in Vietnam licensed by the Ministry of Information and Communications to test 5G network in two cities, Hanoi and Ho Chi Minh City. Accordingly, the scale of service testing will not exceed 73 positions. Viettel will not be charged by the test participants during the 5G testing process.

5G trial license of Viettel is valid until January 21, 2020. After 1 year, Viettel will have to return the licensed telecommunications resources. Ho Chi Minh City will be the first city to be offered 5G service testing.

In November 2018, at the Vietnam Innovation and Innovation Conference, Minister of Information and Communications Nguyen Manh Hung affirmed that 5G technology is an opportunity for Vietnam to change rankings. To do that, Vietnam will be one of the first 5G deployments in the world by 2020.

See more:

1. 5G smartphones will be released in 2019
2. The world's first 5G network package, priced at 57 USD / month, with no capacity limit
3. Learn about mmWave and Sub-6GHz, 2 different bands of 5G network

You finished reading the article "Viettel is licensed to test 5G network in Hanoi and Ho Chi Minh City" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.