

Facebook message statistics show who sends the most messages on Facebook.

Facebook Messenger is currently the most widely used messaging app, but do you know who messages you the most? This article will guide you on how to see who messages you most on Messenger.

Facebook Messenger is currently the most widely used messaging app, but do you know who messages you most often? You probably don't pay attention to or know how many messages you receive on Messenger in a day, how many messages you send on Messenger in total, or who your regular Messenger users are.

If you want to see the number of messages on Messenger and who messages you most often, you can use two Messenger message counting tools: Multiple Tools For Facebook and J2TEAM Security. These two tools support Facebook with various features, including the ability to see who messages you most frequently. This article will guide you on how to use these two tools to see who messages you most often on Messenger.

Quick guide

1. Multiple Tools For Facebook : Install the extension, log in to your account, go to the Tools section, click on the Message Downloader tool , wait for the tool to perform the statistics, and view the results in the Count section.
2. J2TeaM Security : Install the extension, log in to the Facebook account you want to check the number of messages for, then select Tools > Facebook Message Statistics , and view the results on the statistics page.
3. Cool Friends : Download the tool, log in with your Facebook account, click MAKE MY TOP CHAT to view statistics, and FINISH to save the results.

Detailed instructions

1. View top Messenger messages using Multiple Tools For Facebook

Step 1:

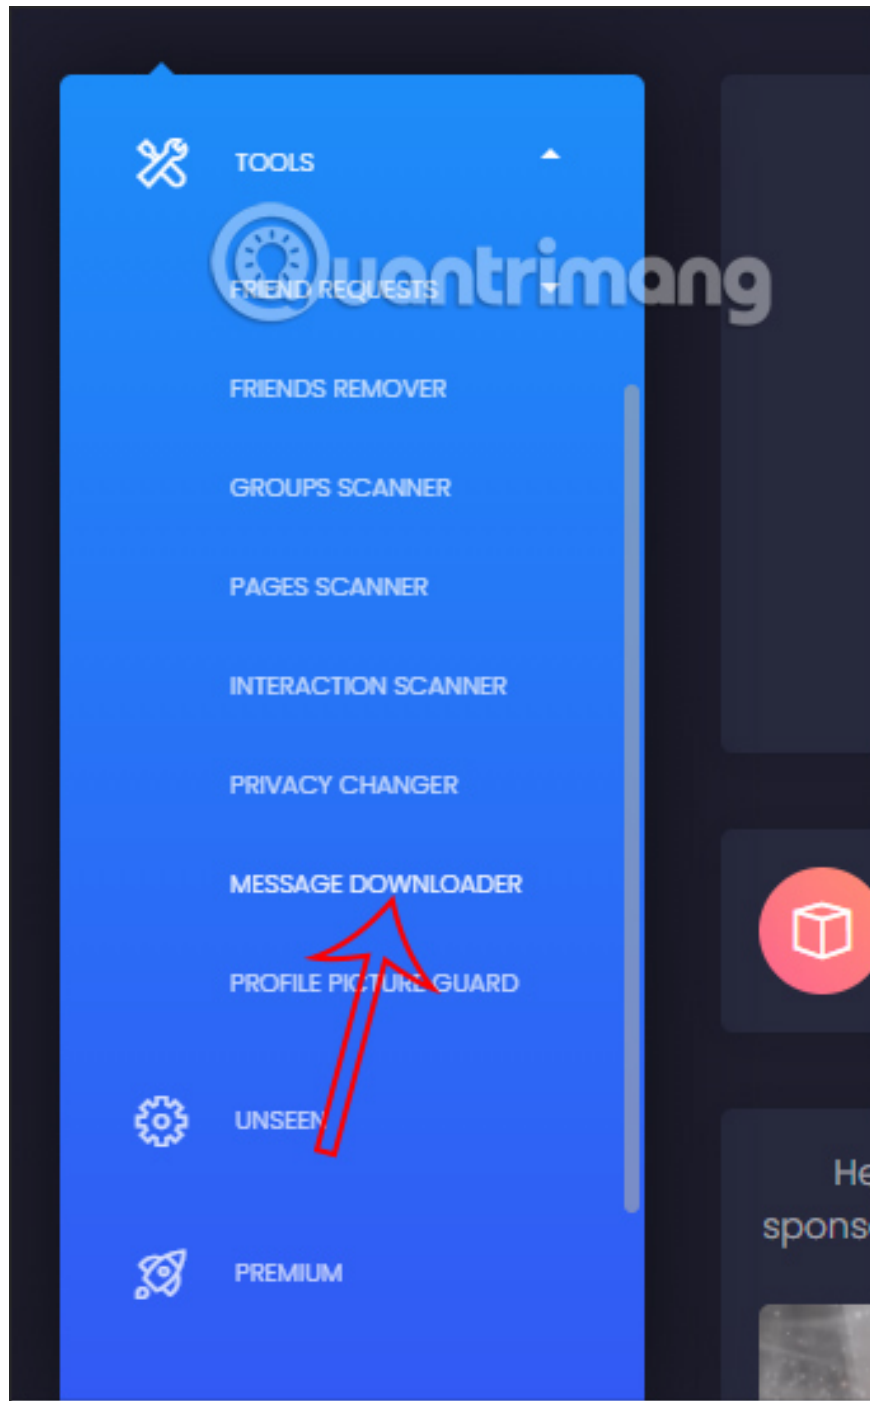

You can download the Multiple Tools For Facebook extension for Chrome browser using the link below.

Download the Multiple Tools For Facebook extension.

Step 2:

You will then be taken to the Multiple Tools For Facebook extension interface. If you are not already logged into Facebook, you will need to log in to your account.

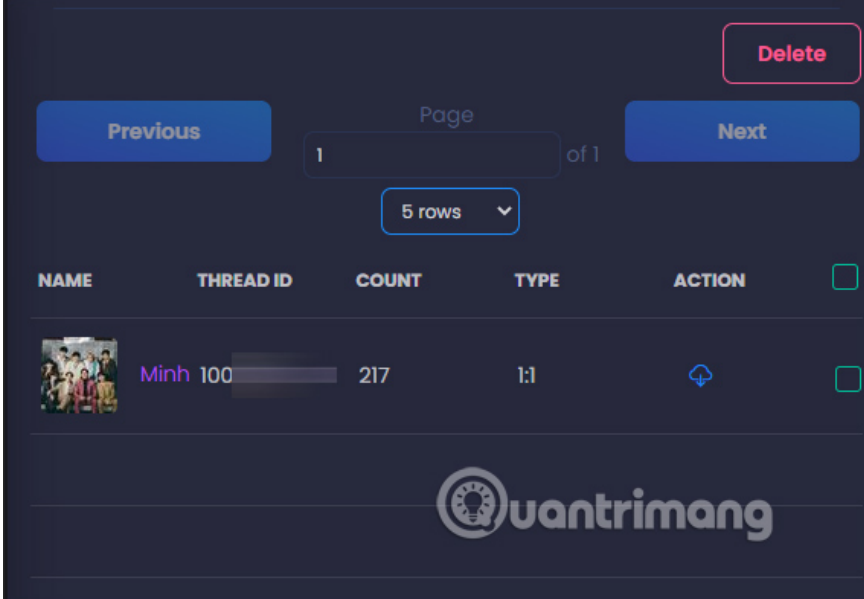

On the utility's website interface, look at the left-hand menu and click on "Tools". The utility's supporting tools will then be displayed; click on the "Message Downloader" tool.

Step 3:

Please wait a moment for the utility to summarize and count the number of Messenger messages. The result will show the person who messages you the most, along with the total number of messages they have sent you on Messenger in the Count section .

On this interface, you can also click the download icon to download all your Messenger messages and that person's messages to your computer as an HTML file, similar to how we download Facebook data to our computers.

NAME	THREAD ID	COUNT	TYPE	ACTION
 Minh	100	217	1:1		<input type="checkbox"/>

Please note that because you are using the basic version of Multiple Tools For Facebook, only the person who messages you most often will be shown. If you upgrade to a Premium account, you will be able to see messages from people who are not your friends, messages from Facebook groups, or even temporarily disabled or locked Facebook accounts .

2. How to see who sent you messages on Messenger using J2TeaM Security

The J2TeaM Security extension, installed on the Chrome browser, will help you answer that question. This tool was developed by the well-known Facebook technology group 2TEAM Community. The J2TeaM Security extension offers users many useful Facebook management features such as checking Facebook security , checking who is online on Facebook , a list of Facebook emojis , and even statistics on Facebook messages.

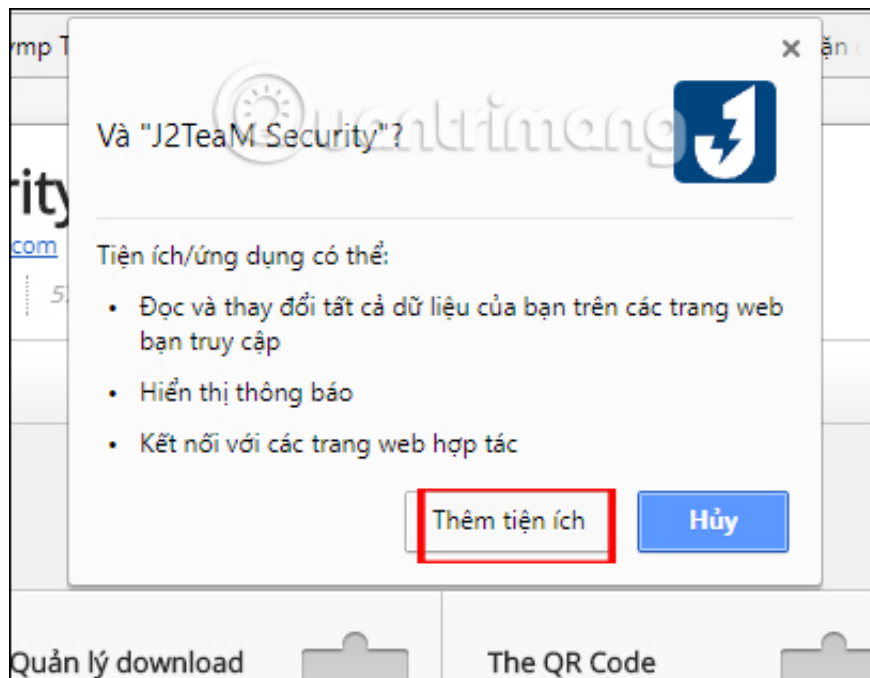

Step 1:

To install the J2TeaM Security extension on your Chrome browser, please use the link below.

On the first screen, click "Add to Chrome" to install the extension.

Step 2: A small interface will appear; click Add widget .

Users should wait for the J2TeaM Security extension installation process to complete on Chrome. Afterward, they will see the extension icon at the end of the website address bar, along with a message like the one shown below.

Step 3:

Now log in to the Facebook account you want to check the number of messages sent. In the Chrome interface, right-click on the J2TeaM Security icon, select Tools , and then select Facebook Message Statistics .

Step 4:

You will immediately be redirected to J2TeaM's statistics page, which lists the top 10 most frequently messaging Facebook accounts, sorted in descending order.

In addition, J2TeaM will track the gender of each account and the number of messages that the two Facebook accounts have exchanged.

Please note that the statistics processing speed depends on the number of messages the user has sent.

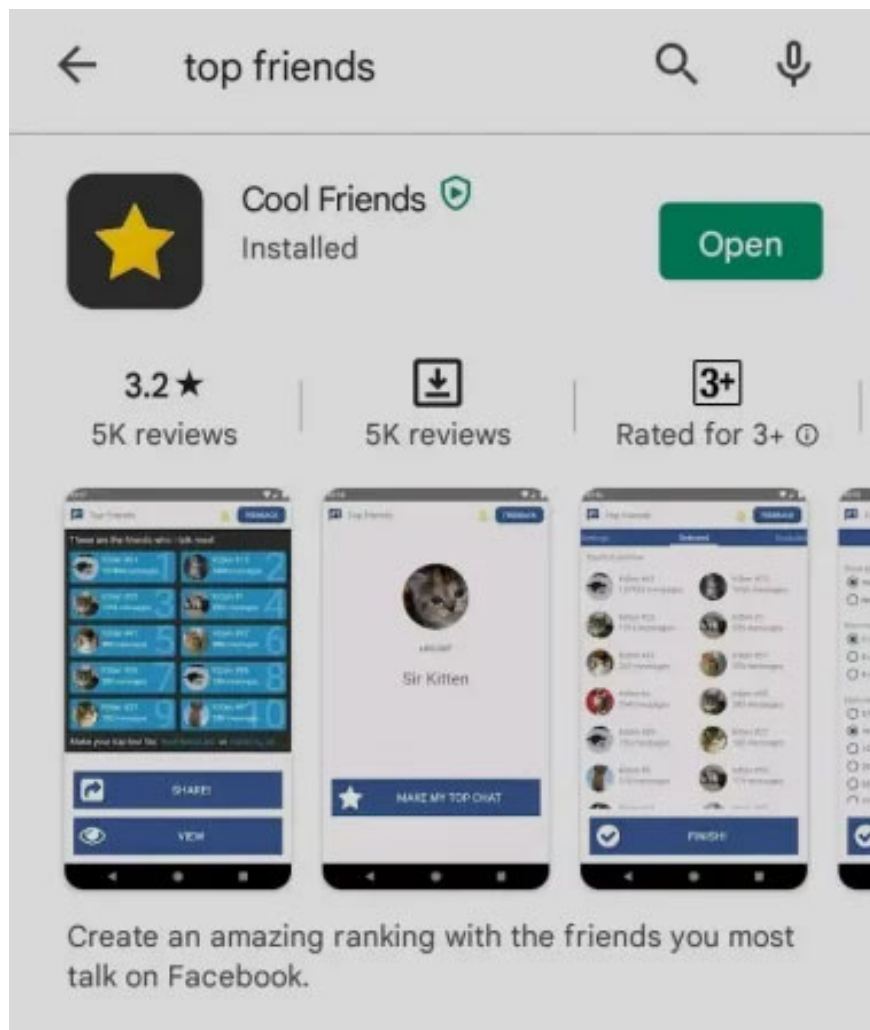

3. See who messages you the most using the Cool Friends tool.

Sometimes you might wonder about the names of the people you chat with most often. Unfortunately, Facebook Messenger doesn't offer any direct option to see the names of such people.

However, you can still do that with the help of third-party apps. A popular app that lets you know who you chat with most on Messenger is Cool Friends. The app currently only works on Android devices.

Step 1 : Go to the Play Store and search for "cool friends" or "top Friends ," then download and install the app. Alternatively, you can directly access the following link to download the tool to your device.

Download Cool Friends

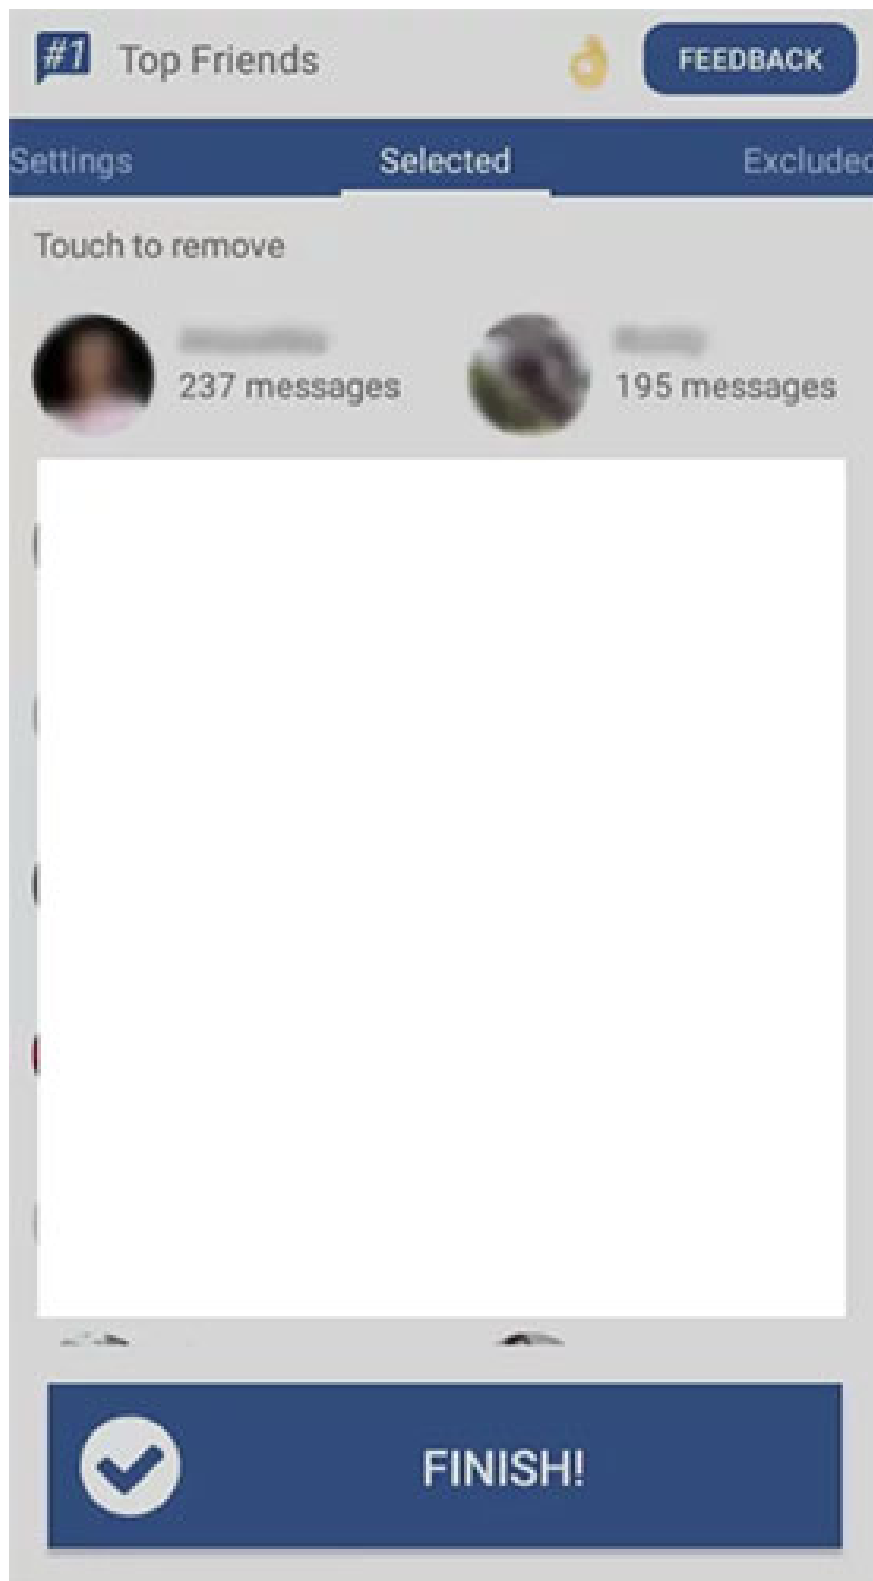

Step 2 : Launch the application and log in to your Facebook account through the application. You will need to use your Facebook login details.

Step 3 : After logging into your account, click on the "MAKE MY TOP CHAT" option at the bottom of the application interface.

Step 4 : The screen will display a list of your most frequently chatted friends. The names will appear in descending order, starting with the friend you chat with the most.

If you want to save the result as an image, press FINISH at the bottom. Now you can view it in your gallery or share it with your friends.
