

Virtoo, a 'copy' of Dell Mobile Connect for all Windows 10 PCs, is coming soon

Virtoo basically owns the same features as Dell Mobile Connect.

For those who already own or have ever owned a Dell-branded laptop, Dell Mobile Connect is pretty familiar. This is an application developed specifically for Dell PCs, which serves as a complete means of communication between smartphones and Dell computers, allowing Android and iOS users to make calls and send messages. , receive notifications, transfer data and interact with all your favorite mobile apps right on your Dell PC screen.

According to a report by Alumia, Screenovate, the developer of the Dell Mobile Connect application, has revealed information that it is completing and preparing to release a new application called Virtoo, which basically owns the The feature is similar to Dell Mobile Connect, but can work on PCs from all brands, as long as the PC is running Windows 10.

As such, it is possible to list some of the features this application will support, including:

1. Support hands-free voice calls: Allows users to make and receive voice calls on smartphones using the built-in speaker and microphone on the PC.
2. Text message support - Allows users to send and receive SMS and MMS messages right on the computer.
3. Manage notifications : Allow users to receive notifications from the phone and interact / manage those notifications right on the PC.
4. Managing contacts: Search for contact information in the phone book and make calls or send SMS directly from the application.
5. Screen mirroring: Enables users to project smartphone screens on PC screens in real time, as well as operate with a keyboard, mouse, or touch screen.
6. File transfer : Move data between your phone and computer with just a few simple drag and drop.

As mentioned, this application has not yet been launched, but the finishing stages have been implemented. The problem will probably only lie in time. The arrival of Virtuo will give Windows 10 users a quality alternative to the Your Phone app.
