

Want to earn more money, you better know 'close your mouth'

Want to earn more money, you better know 'close your mouth'. This seems difficult and harsh. But if you can do it, it will succeed.

1. Want to get rich, the most important thing is not money but liver
2. Want to be rich, apply money management method 50/20/30
3. 7 rules about money everyone needs to know

Money is always an extremely sensitive issue for any of us. In this life, those who have money are considered people with power in their hands, and without money, they will be looked down upon by many.

Many people, when they earn a decent amount of money, often do not control themselves, tell everyone around them how much they have earned with happy and proud eyes. However, do you know this is a wrong thing to make your life never better? To know why, this is the reason.

1. Money creates envy in people

Money is something that people don't like, and of course when someone sees more money, do you feel envious of them? Looking at their friends who have luxurious lives, full of material, who don't envy them.

'Money is cold but it is the easiest thing to make people feel. So envy is also inevitable '.

If your rich life is solid, with a foundation, you can freely show off that life outside. Because even if someone is jealous of your property, you can't afford to destroy it. This is considered a wise person. If you have just created your furniture, it is best to close your mouth to avoid bad guys taking advantage.

2. Many people may be willing to put you in the mud

Because of envy, many people are willing to take you down to steal the opportunity that should have been yours. They don't do this because they hate you or you do something that is wrong with them, not sure if they can make any profit, but one thing is for sure, they do this to satisfy themselves and solve the thorn in front of you.

These people can be anyone, maybe a colleague of the same agency, even a close friend you consider a good brother. Farther away than neighbors . They are willing to put you down to satisfy their envy.

In addition to money, there are many things that create jealousy in humans. Like you have a beautiful girlfriend, or have a good job or can have many followers .

Human envy cannot be controlled. But if all day just 'potty' about making a lot of money. It will keep you in a difficult situation.

3. Money makes people become very talkative

Perhaps many people like to talk about money to have the opportunity to show themselves, every month earn thousands of dollars, travel abroad like meals, buy brand name with no money . But, the sentences Your story only really attracts unemployed people or middle-income people. As for those with higher levels, those stories are definitely not worth considering. Because those things with them are not interesting, what they especially care about here is that people with experiences of life, careers, they value the experience and the process of reaching the city. even more. You may think that you make a lot of money, but don't be paranoid because you don't know who still earns more than you. But they choose to remain silent and what others see in them is effort and relentless effort.

4. Everyone should be satisfied with what they have

People who like to talk about their money earned, because they feel satisfied with the money, so they boast. However, when you are satisfied with that level of income, you will not have the motivation, the new goal to try to earn more money and wealth for yourself, you will even find it difficult to overcome. through the new challenges encountered in life, say no sooner will the hole and not escape.

Instead of bragging and being satisfied with what you have, focus on your work. Think further, be more creative, and achieve new goals you want to overcome.

Because after all, what we all want to satisfy ourselves is to achieve the goals, not the money you earn.

Wish you will earn more money. And remember, to make more money, it's best to close your mouth.

You finished reading the article "Want to earn more money, you better know 'close your mouth'" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.