

Warning: A website may appear to find the phone number of anyone on Facebook including hidden information

Last night, information about a website was able to find the personal phone number of any Facebook user, even if the hidden mode (Only Me) was set to spread quickly on social networks.

Last night, information about a website was able to find the personal phone number of any Facebook user, even if the hidden mode (Only Me) was set to spread quickly on social networks.

The operation is very simple, users just need to enter the personal page link of any Facebook user and click on the button to find the phone number.

Even on this site interface, there is a link to the Facebook address of the person who created it.

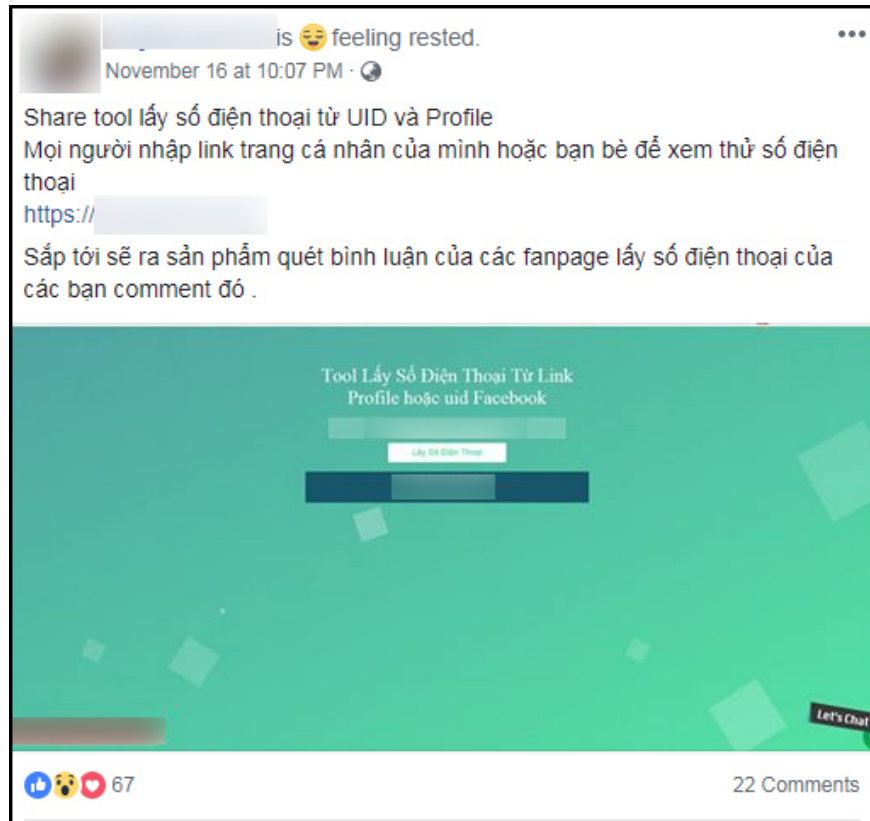

The main interface of the website with the link leads to Facebook the site owner.

This shows that the scope of Facebook user information security in particular and social network in general is in alarm condition. In the past, there have been many famous people hacked and ruined personal Facebook page.

Currently, this site is searching for free online but limited and counting down at a rate of about 200 times used in 3-5 minutes. This shows that there are many people who know and use this website. Chances are, after the number of free searches has expired, this website will require new users to use it.

Even the owner of this website said that he will continue to upgrade to scan the phone numbers of commenters directly while surfing Facebook without moving to a separate website to do it now. .
