

Watch blocked YouTube videos with a free Chrome extension

Certainly, you have never encountered a situation where you can find good videos on YouTube, but you have received a bitter notice that you do not support your country.

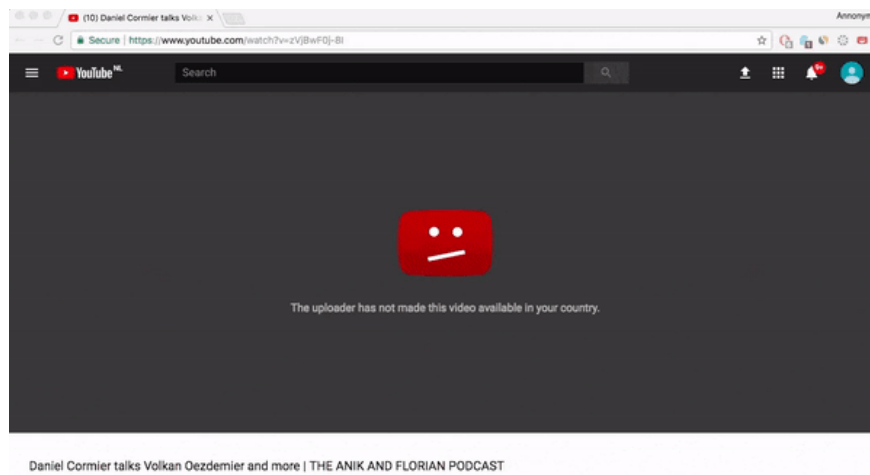

Surely, you have never encountered the situation of finding YouTube videos or on other websites, but you have received a bitter notice that you do not support your country.

Usually with this problem, VPN software that helps change IP addresses will help, but is too complicated and can slow down the network connection. With this free Chrome utility, everything will be much simpler.

See also: 11 best VPN software

F * ck YouTube is a free extension on Chrome Web Store, which helps trick Chrome into letting you see blocked YouTube videos by geography.

All you need to do is install this utility, open the video on YouTube and it will automatically download the video.

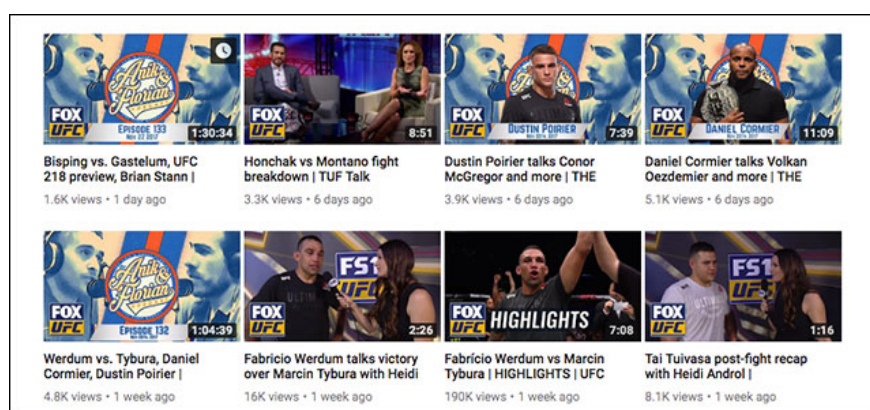

Watch blocked videos on YouTube with Chrome extensions

It is important to remember that even though these videos can be viewed when you get the URL, if you find the video on the YouTube channel list, it will still be hidden. This is an example.

Video when browsing by IP address from the Netherlands

Video when browsing with IP from the US

As you can see, using IP from the US will see more videos. To avoid having to be blocked on YouTube videos, install this utility here. <https://chrome.google.com/webstore/detail/fck-youtube/mmbfionaddihoimkpiebodbghmfjolkf/related> If you're interested in code, check out the GitHub repository here. <https://github.com/AlessandroFC15/Fuck-YouTube>

You finished reading the article "Watch blocked YouTube videos with a free Chrome extension" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.