Ways to get Coin Master spins directly from the game.

Get spins by logging in daily.

Not to mention the spin redemption table in the link above, just by logging in regularly you'll receive a large number of spins. There will be a free spin redemption table for 7 days; if you log in continuously, you'll receive a large number of spins along with additional rewards.

At the top of the bar will be the major reward milestones for your consistent logins. When you reach a reward milestone, simply select the corresponding gift box to claim your reward.

Complete the task, take on the challenge.

The more villages you unlock, the higher your level will be, and the more quests you'll unlock, earning you more spins. To complete higher-level quests, you'll sometimes need to save a significant number of spins to fill your quest bar.

The number of spins you receive after completing tasks is quite high and suitable for your needs at that moment. With challenges, you sometimes have to spend gold to participate, unlike with tasks, where you only spend spins to get special items that help you fill your task bar.

Invite your friends

Inviting friends to join Coin Master will also give you a small number of spins, which are very useful for new players. Just go to Friends > select Invite Friends, and every time an invitation is made, you will receive spins.

Complete your card collection.

This is completely random, and largely depends on luck. If you manage to open a collection of 4-5 star cards, the number of spins you receive is significant. These cards can only be obtained from high-priced chests, and you have to spend money to open them.

Completing quests will also reward you with card-opening chests; depending on the difficulty of the quest, you will receive chests containing either high-level or low-level cards.

Complete the construction projects in the village.

Upon completing constructions in your village, you will receive a certain number of spins. While the number of spins isn't large, it will help players get extra turns if needed to complete tasks.

Participate in the event

Events will be constantly updated to align with real-life special events. For example, Christmas or New Year's often have events that allow players to earn more spins. However, the developers also frequently release events that help players earn more spins in a short period of time.

Watch the advertisement.

In some features, you'll get ad views that you can exchange for spins. While ad views are limited per day, this is a method you should try when needed to complete tasks.

Give and receive spins from friends.

This is also considered a way to earn spins, although usually you have to give back as many spins as your friends give you. So this method of earning spins is just an exchange, a give-and-take with your friends.
