

What does IT mean? What is the IT industry doing?

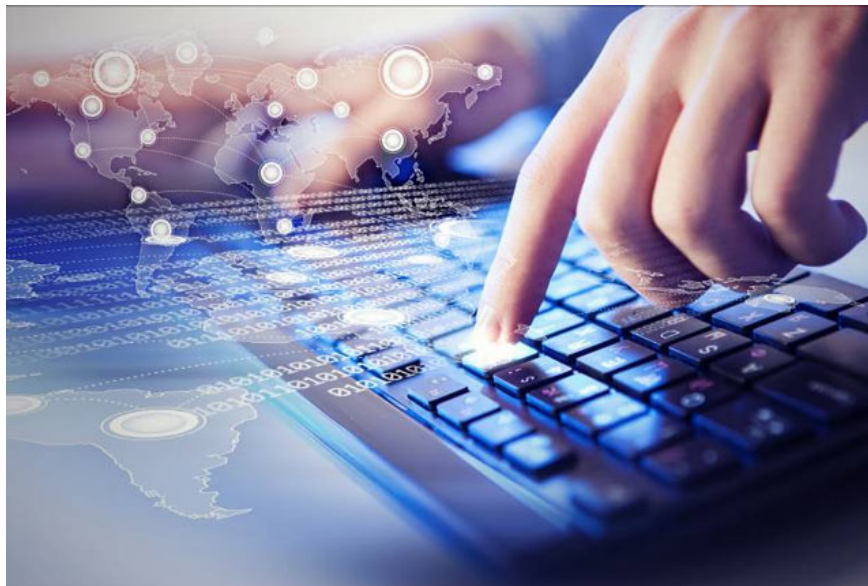

If you want to study this industry and want to learn about IT career then the article below Network Administrator will answer for you all. Let's follow it.

Information technology is growing strongly, in order to keep up with the technology trend of the world, many industries related to this field also develop accordingly. One of the jobs that cannot be mentioned is IT. This is an extremely singing industry and attracts the attention of many young people today because of the interesting and many challenges that this work brings.

If you want to study this industry and want to learn about IT career then the article below Network Administrator will answer for you all. Let's follow it.

1. Listen to the young "not medium" answers about IT industry
2. The Ministry of Information and Communications issues "Documents of things to know about IT jobs", a guideline for young people who love technology

1. What is IT?

If we analyze each word of IT we will have:

I: Information means information.

T: Technology means technology.

When combining these two letters, we will get IT terminology, this is an acronym in English of the phrase 'Information Technology', when translating into Vietnamese, we can understand the information technology as a profession is very singing and is loved by many young people. IT is the work related to the computer software of the Internet network, data processing, .

2. What is IT industry?

IT staff are those who specialize in collecting and managing, conducting repairs and correcting errors that the website is encountering. Thanks to IT, individuals and organizations can avoid hackers who steal information and help individuals and organizations manage and use their data in a simple, easy and effective way. more.

In Vietnam IT is also understood as programmers, the work of IT does not stop at the processing of computer data, but these people also have to carry out the work related to designing and writing parts. Soft computers, . Depending on the requirements of each company, IT will meet their working needs.

For example, there are companies that require their IT staff to know not only computer software but also knowledge of code, even some companies require their employees to specialize in about SEO, support to overcome computer problems, network .

IT jobs can be divided into typical industry categories as follows:

1. Website Development.
2. Desktop application.
3. Mobile application.
4. Game Development.
5. Embedded programming.
6. Artificial intelligence.
7. System security.
8. Used in conjunction with other industries.

So we introduced you to the IT industry and the job of IT people. Hope the article will be useful to you. Thank you for watching!

You finished reading the article "What does IT mean? What is the IT industry doing?" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.
