

What does the missile icon on the Facebook application mean?

The rocket icon on Facebook is the representative for the new Explore feature for the application on Android and iOS. When users click on this icon, the new News Feed will completely appear and you will know a lot more information from this 2nd News Feed.

It can be said that Facebook is a "hard-working" application to update new features, to bring users more rich and useful experience. And recently, a few Facebook accounts were quite surprised when their News Feed interface appeared with a missile icon. This icon will appear on the menu bar at the bottom of Facebook on iPhone / iPad or at the top with Android device. So, what missile icon does this play on Facebook?

This icon is essentially Explore feature that Facebook is conducting testing on certain users. When we click on that icon, a second News Feed will appear, which is different from the default Facebook News Feed you often see.

Normally, the News Feed by default will be where we get all your friends' information from photos, sharing, likes, comments or information from Fanpage, Group that you have clicked like and Follow on Facebook.

With this Explore feature, we will come to a whole new world, the information coming from the pages that we do not like Like, those that are not on the list. And the information that appears at the second News Feed will be similar and relevant to the default News Feed.

A more concrete example is that you like the Network Fanpage on Facebook, the technology information of the site will appear on the News Feed. Meanwhile, you do not like Fanpage Download.com.vn, the site is also about information and technology tips, when going to News Feed 2, you will see the information of the site there. In addition, sites with similar content and properties without hitting Like will also appear on this 2nd News Feed.

This will help Facebook users can get more relevant information from similar sites, but you don't need to like or follow too many pages, leading to "garbage" Facebook. Besides, instead of looking for the relevant information, when going to News Feed 2, we will get the results we need immediately.

However, now this Explore feature has not been updated in most Facebook accounts, so please wait for the time to come!
