The men's mullet haircut (or simply mullet) is a hairstyle that is gradually establishing itself in the world of men's hair fashion. According to reviews, the men's mullet hairstyle comes in many diverse styles, suitable for various individuals and styles, and is especially well-suited to round Asian face shapes.

What is a mullet hairstyle? What does it mean to get a mullet haircut?

The mullet hairstyle is similar to the undercut, also trimmed short underneath, but the hair at the back is only cut to about halfway down the head, not too high. The hair on top and bangs are grown long, covering the hair underneath. The mullet is a handsome and simple men's hairstyle that is currently popular among many young people.

The best men's hairstyles

1. The simplest men's mullet hairstyle.

This is a popular mullet hairstyle that possesses all the characteristics mentioned above and is chosen by many men.

The bob haircut with bangs that fall down will hide the flaws of round or long faces – common face shapes among Asians. With this bob haircut, men don't need to style their hair much to have a very smart and handsome look.

2. Men's side-swept mustache

With this bob haircut, the hair on the sides is cut shorter than usual, while the corresponding hair on top is cut shorter. This helps to create a more youthful and energetic look.

3. Men's bob haircut with trimmed nape.

The most popular nape-trimming hairstyle involves cutting or shaving the nape upwards, about 1/4 the length of the head, resulting in a simple, cool, and neat look.

4. Korean men's bob haircut

This bob haircut is striking with its medium-length bangs cut right in the middle of the forehead, giving it a rebellious and edgy look.

5. Layered bob

With this men's hairstyle, your bangs and side hair will be trimmed, becoming thinner, less heavy, and layered with alternating strands that look very attractive.

6. Short bob haircut

Short haircuts retain the typical features of neatly trimmed sides and back, but the hair on top has been significantly reduced. This stylish short men's haircut is suitable for those who prefer a streamlined, sporty look.
