

What is Black Sheep? learn about the origin of the word Black Sheep

Black Sheep is a phenomenon that often occurs in families with many children. So, what is Black Sheep, what is Black Sheep of the Family?

Black Sheep is a phenomenon that often occurs in a group, in a family with many children. So, what is Black Sheep, what is Black Sheep of the Family? Please read the article below to understand the meaning and origin of the word Black Sheep.

What is Black Sheep?

Black Sheep is a word used to refer to an odd, scandalous member of a group, rebellious elements in a group or different children in a family. This word is often used with a negative connotation, indicating stubbornness. In some cases it can be understood that the member is 'outlined'.

Black Sheep of the Family means the black sheep of the family.

Currently, people use the expression Black Sheep to refer to a group member who has certain distinctive characteristics, but no longer has the same negative connotation as before.

For example, in a family with a tradition of art, while the other members are active in a certain art, the youngest son wants to be a police officer.

Origin of Black Sheep

The Black Sheep originates from the occasional black sheep born into a flock of white sheep. Black sheep stand out in the flock and their wool is of lesser value because it cannot be dyed.

In the 18th and 19th centuries, the black color of sheep was considered a sign of evil.

What is the black sheep effect?

The black sheep effect is a psychological phenomenon in which members of a group rate members of the group more harshly than they do outsiders.

Hopefully, through the above article, you have understood what Black Sheep is, the meaning of the Black Sheep idiom from which there is a correct usage.

You finished reading the article "What is Black Sheep? learn about the origin of the word Black Sheep" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.