

What is left of Asia if the whole ice on Earth melts?

Big cities like Shanghai or Calcutta completely disappeared under the ocean. Ho Chi Minh City of Vietnam is also one of the most heavily affected areas.

Everyone knows that climate change and global warming melt the ice in the two poles, rising sea levels cause a terrible disaster for humanity. One of the most heavily affected areas is the Asian region, including Vietnam.

1. 11 interesting differences between the two ends of the Earth: Arctic and Antarctica
2. You will be startled when watching the video describing the process of Earth's hotness in the past 100 years
3. Unbelievable but true, CAT in the world began to run out

Researchers have come up with a simulation map that makes it easier to visualize the world panorama, especially what Asia looks like if all the ice on the Earth melts. You will be startled to see that creepy change.

In Asia, big cities like Shanghai or Calcutta completely disappear under the ocean. Ho Chi Minh City of Vietnam is also one of the most heavily affected areas.

You finished reading the article "What is left of Asia if the whole ice on Earth melts?" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.