

What is Mod Skin?

The mod skin though will give gamers the characters with beautiful appearance and satisfaction to experience what that skin brings. However, gamers will face the risk of being locked out of accounts with online games

What is Mod Skin, this word is understood that you use a software to change the appearance of the character, be it costume or change the appearance of the character. In addition to mod character skin, the player can also change the appearance of items, effects in the game.

If talking about mod skin in offline games, you must mention the Grand Theft Auto game series. From GTA Vice City and above, modding has become popular with this series. Then the games that often use mods are Counter Strike Offline, Minecraft .

Then there are online games that have mod skins like League of Legends, Mobile Alliance . With diverse skins on many different topics, including the skins of the generals in the game and even the costumes. There is no game.

For example, anime-style skins, often replaced by gamers for the default skins for champions in the game. Not only that, the skill effects will also be replaced when gamers develop skills.

However, mod skins for characters or equipment in online games are only visible to you. And your teammates and enemies will only see the default image. So mod skin also only increases the spirit of gaming is the main.

There are many reasons why online game players use mod skins, but mostly there is no money to buy skins in the game. Gamers who use mod skins do not want to spend money on games. They just want to beautify their characters and the skins do not bring a slight change in the character strength parameters.

There are also very rich players who have a huge collection of skins but they still need mod skin software. Simply because mod skin has costumes, effects that can not buy money. But when using the new mod skin, you don't have to spend money to buy it.

For offline games, the mod skin will not affect your game, except that you use the mod tools improperly, resulting in file errors during the mod process.

But for online games, for example, if you mod the League of Legends skin, the chance of being banned is quite high when the game publisher has stated that using the software to mod skin will be locked out of the account. Not to mention, there will be game conflicts when updating and some risk of account information security.

Therefore, using mod skin with online games is something to consider as it will greatly affect the player's account. Especially when the account is permanently locked, there is nothing else. If you want to own unique skins without spending too much money, you can hunt for promotions or wait for the publisher to organize free skin-giving events for players.
