

What is the ending of the dinosaur game T-Rex on Chrome?

The score of the game increases as the dinosaur runs as far. So, how much score will this game end?

Here are the end of the famous video games that many gamers do not know.

1. Duck Hunt - Duck shooting game

This is a famous NES game with ducks on the screen, and the player's task is to hold a toy gun to shoot them down. If you lose, a dog will appear and it will laugh at you.

When reaching level 100 in Duck Hunt, the trajectory and position of the ducks become erratic making gamers can not beat. Many people think that level 100 in Duck Hunt is faulty. Therefore, the end of Duck Hunt is always the appearance of a dog that likes to laugh in your face.

2. Pacman

Pac-Man has a simple and attractive gameplay, which was one of the most famous video games in the world in the 1980s. Pac-Man has sold tens of millions of copies but not everyone knows the end. The ultimate of this game.

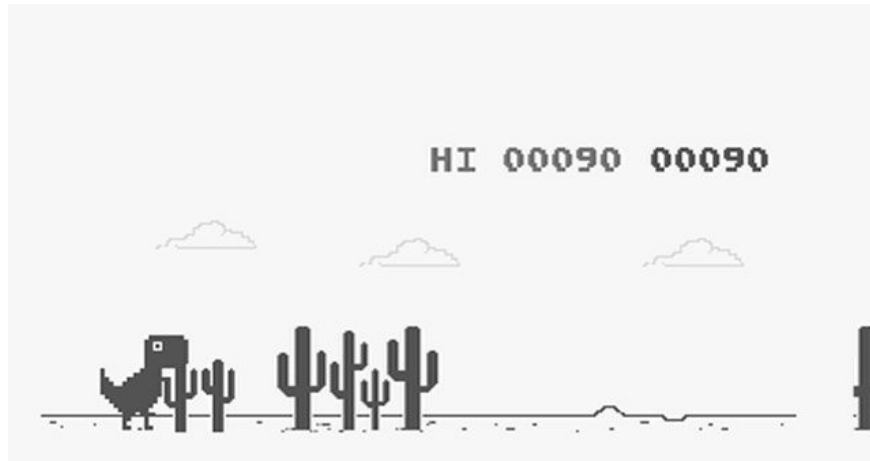

When gamers play up to screen 256, strange characters will appear on half the screen that you can not overcome. The reason is because screen 256 has a programming error. This means that when you reach level 256, the player has won the game Pac-Man.

3. Contra

In Contra, players will have to relentlessly fire bullets to fight continuously with terrorists and aliens. After defeating all enemies, the main character will sit on the plane to leave the island about to explode and the phrase "clearing the island" will appear.

4. T-Rex Chrome

This T-Rex dinosaur jumping game on Chrome browser is familiar to most users. It will appear when the Internet connection is down. The task of the player is to control the jumping dinosaurs, bending to avoid obstacles. The score of the game increases as the dinosaur runs as far. So, how much score will this game end?

The answer is that this game only ends when the player lets this dinosaur go, that is, bumping into obstacles. Even if the total score of T-Rex is greater than 99999, the number will go back to zero and continue from the beginning.

5. Donkey Kong

Donkey Kong is an arcade game released in 1981. Players will never get past the 22nd table because Donkey Kong is also a faulty game.

1. Half Life: Alyx will be released in March 2020, becoming the most configurable eats game in history
2. Battle Prime - A brand new shooter with the best graphics in Mobile?
3. Microsoft Flight Simulator 2020: The 'super awesome' game with a capacity of up to 2,000,000GB, the heaviest in human history

You finished reading the article "What is the ending of the dinosaur game T-Rex on Chrome?" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.
