

What will happen if Pokemon is real?

Can you guess what happens when Pokemon are real? They can become Pokemon eat humans or robots for war ...

Since the " Pokemon " cartoon is shown on television, children all over the world want Pokemon to be real. When I was a kid, when I was camping with my family, I imagined that Caterpie or Pidgey could suddenly jump out from behind the tree.

But when you grow up, learn and have experience in life, you'll realize that things can't be as perfect as in Pokemon movies. And I always wondered: " If the Pokemon is real, what will happen? ". Here are things that can happen if Pokemon is real.

8. Coach for Pokemon will become a hot job

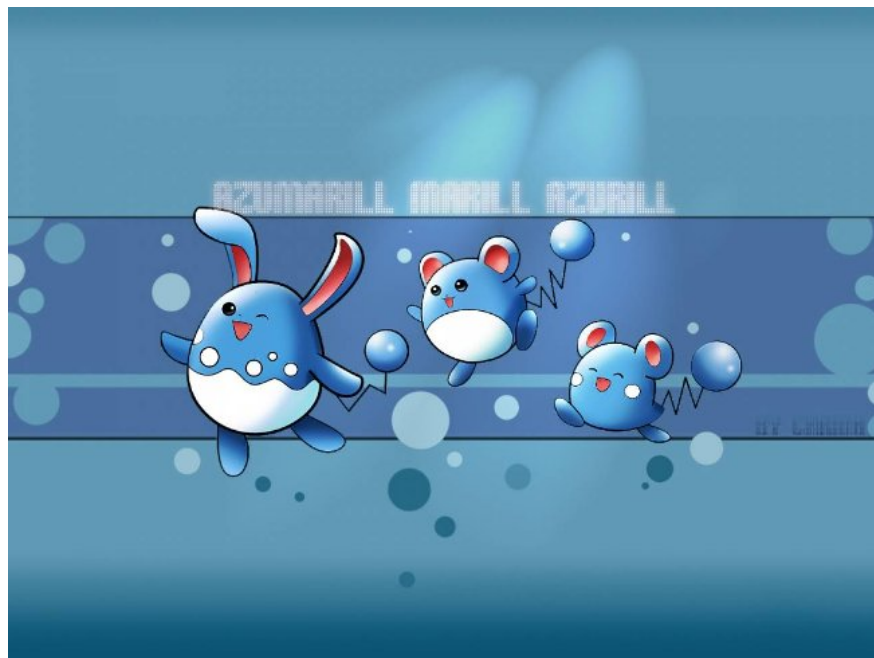

Millions of people around the world will watch the most talented Pokemon coaches as they fight in the elite arena. People put too much hope on them, amateur coaches have to run around trying to be recognized.

7. Illegal Pokemon will be available in the "black market " market.

Simply put, Pokemon are new animals that everything can trade so they will be the next unfortunate thing.

6. People will not believe in transformation

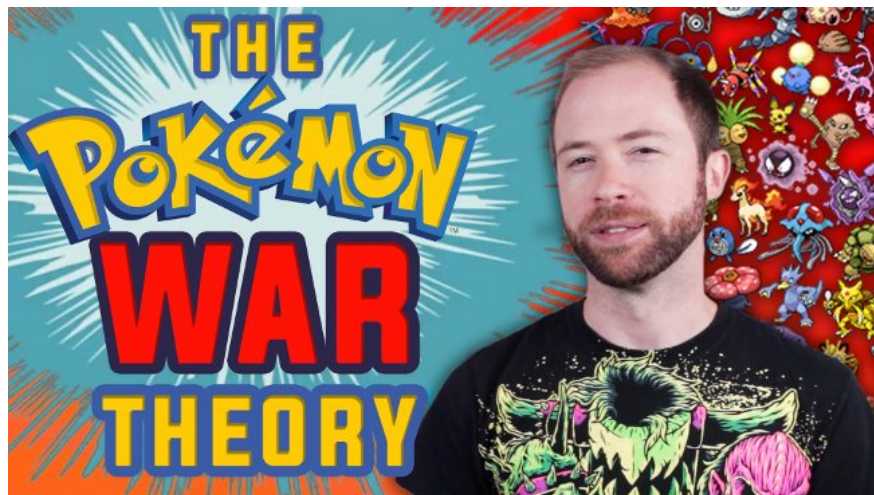

That is, everything can happen right in front of you.

5. Science will change completely

New elements and applications of physics will have to be solved by the power of Pokemon.

4. They will be used during the war

Photos from Youtube

Sadly, Pokemon will be put into military use.

3. Some Pokemon will eat people

It's like we eat meat every day. And that, it's as easy for them as ice cream.

2. The " energy crisis " will be solved

Pokemon will win!

1. They will be good friends

In the end, they are still great!

You finished reading the article "What will happen if Pokemon is real?" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.
