

Where to find a flashlight in Sons of the Forest

A flashlight or something that shines should be one of your first goals in Sons of the Forest. Indeed, some players have survived an entire week in Sons of the Forest before finding a flashlight, and indeed wish they had gotten it sooner.

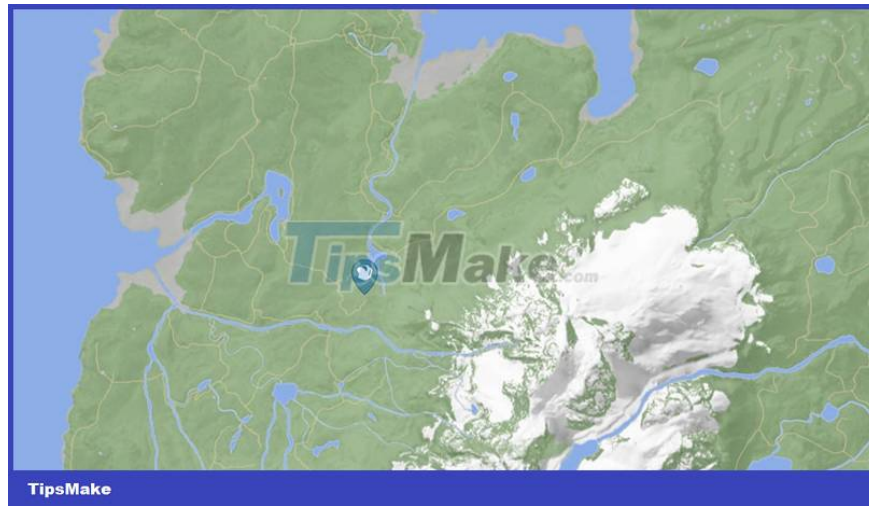

You'll probably be able to use all the batteries you'll find in cannibal camps, but more importantly you can scour the island's bone-chilling caves and you'll probably find out. trophies or threats are approaching you.

Where to find the Sons of the Forest flashlight?

Like most worthwhile searches in the woods, the flashlight you find will be in a horrible sight. That's when you find a man hanging by a rope on a cliff and surrounded by alcohol. It looks like this man took his own life and clearly his sad ending is your reward.

You can find the flashlight at one of the point of interest markers with purple showing on your GPS at the start of the game. You're looking for the marker in the northwest near the central snowy mountains, near the north/south end of the river. There's a trail leading directly there, but consider cutting through the trees to avoid cannibal camps nearby.

Turn off your GPS and when you get close it will start beeping. The closer you get, the louder and louder the beeps will be. If you approach the area from the west, you'll probably see the hanged body first, or you might miss it altogether, as he hangs himself into the cliff.

Besides the flashlight, binoculars are also an item that many Sons of the Forest players search and scour the map because it helps players avoid danger and can observe items from afar, see through. How to find binoculars in Sons of the Forests to find valuable binoculars in the game.
