You receive calls from numbers 001, +1, but don't know where, is it a virtual phone number or not? So which country does the 001 number belong to? Please refer to the list of countries around the world in this article!

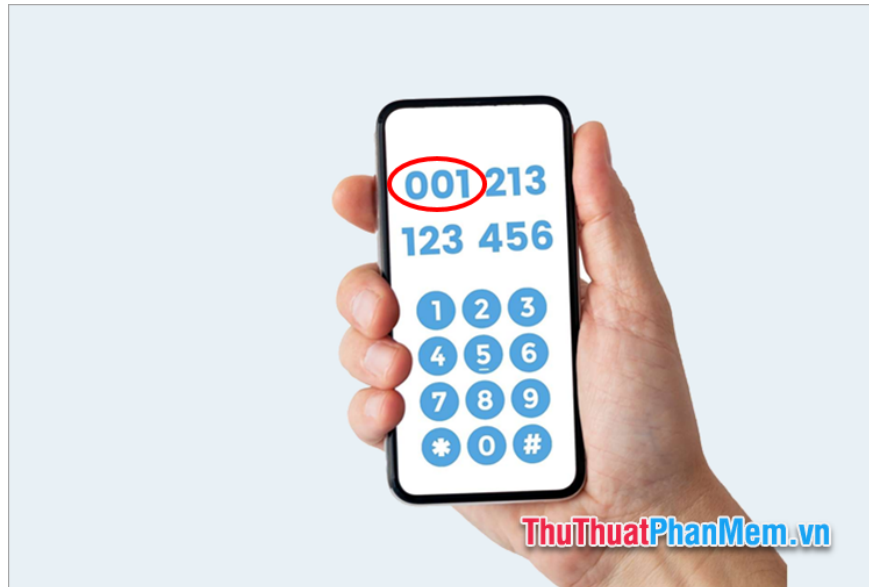

Frequently receiving calls from numbers 001, +1, you don't know where this phone number is, is it a virtual phone number or not? You want to learn more about which country's 001 prefix as well as the prefixes of countries around the world. So we invite you to join TipsMake to find out which country's prefix 001 comes from? List of top countries in the world in the article below.

1. Which country's 001 number is from?

The prefix 00 is the standard country code when making international calls. When you make an international call from any country, you need to enter this standard country code followed by the country's area code. there.

+1 (001) is the area code/prefix of Canada and the United States. This prefix represents Canada and the United States as prescribed by international convention. When you receive a call from the US, you will see that the area code from the US to Vietnam starts as +1.

If you are in Vietnam and want to call someone in New York (212), USA with phone number 555 1212, you need to enter the correct syntax as follows:

[00] + [country telephone area code] + [province/city area code] + [phone number]

Or

[+] + [country telephone area code] + [province/city area code] + [phone number]

So you call: 011 212 555 1212 or +1 212 555 1212

Although 001 and +1 are legal international numbers, many people have created virtual phone numbers to call, so you need to be careful before receiving calls from unknown numbers with this 001 number. .

2. List of countries in the world

Every country in the world has a different country number/area code, these are the first numbers that need to be entered when you make international calls. In addition to adopting code 00 as the international standard when calling outside each country, when calling international phone numbers you can also do so by dialing the number with the plus sign (+) in front and then to the country number/area code.
