How to choose a gun in combination with QBU on PUBG Mobile

Download PUBG Mobile

QBU has basic attributes including:

1. Base damage: 48.
2. Output bullet speed: 990m / s.
3. Effective range: 400m.
4. Basic bullets: 10 capsules.
5. Delay between 2 bullets: 0.1s.
6. Shot mode: Semi-automatic.
7. Bullet type: 5.56 mm

If compared to the Mini14, QBU is more in terms of bullet speed, so the gun can shoot further and the ability to hit the target is higher.

If the player is lucky enough to get QBU, then one more long gun can be selected to improve combat effectiveness. Some types of guns you should use with QBU such as DP-28 or QBZ95.

DP-28 is an automatic light machine gun. This gun has a firing rate of 550 rounds per minute with an effective range of up to 800m. The number of bullets is quite high, using 7.62mm bullets.

QBZ95 is a 5.56mm rifle type that will replace SCAR-L in Sanhok. QBZ95's appearance rate in the map is also relatively high compared to SCAR-L. Especially QBZ95 has the ability to diversity of components attached, the speed to release bullets faster than SCAR-L. These are the strengths of the QBZ95 compared to many other guns. So in case you need to operate quickly, you do not need to spend time searching for accessories to fit the gun.

Of course the combination of guns with guns when fighting in PUBG depends on each player's tactics, as well as the usage habits. However, you can refer to the above article for more options when combined with QBU guns, or other guns.
