

Which smartphone is the heaviest in the mobile market today?

According to PhoneArena, Sony's Xperia XZ2 Premium, which weighs up to 232 grams, is the heaviest smartphone in the mobile market today. In addition, this is Sony's most advanced smartphone at the moment.

According to PhoneArena, Sony's Xperia XZ2 Premium, which weighs up to 232 grams, is the heaviest smartphone in the mobile market today. In addition, this is Sony's most advanced smartphone at the moment.

On the market recently and at least in 2018, there will be no high-end smartphones that can break the record of the Xperia XZ2 Premium.

PHOTO: AFP.

Samsung Galaxy S8 Active stands in second place with a weight of 208 grams and third place belongs to Apple's iPhone 8 Plus with a weight of 202 grams.

Sony Xperia XZ2Premium is made from an aluminum frame sandwiched between curved 3D glasses. Its thickest point on the back is 11.9 mm. This smartphone has a 5.8-inch screen with 4K resolution, 3,540 mAh battery and advanced dual rear camera. All of these factors contribute to the weight of Sony Xperia XZ2Premium being raised to 232 grams, the heaviest in the world today.

See more:

1. 5G Smartphone will be like?
2. Note 9 will be the world's most powerful smartphone?
3. Smartphone scent will be sold globally
4. Which smartphone has the fastest charging speed today?
5. Which smartphone is the most durable?

You finished reading the article "Which smartphone is the heaviest in the mobile market today?" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.
