

System Requirements for installing Windows 10 April 2018 Update

Readers need to know about the Windows 10 April 2018 Update System Requirements before proceeding with this latest Windows 10 update to ensure optimal system performance. This article will introduce you to the Windows 10 April 2018 Update System Requirements; please read on.

You haven't downloaded the Windows 10 April 2018 Update yet? Download it to your computer now using the link below:

- Download Windows 10 April 2018 32bit
- Download Windows 10 April 2018 64bit

Before installing the Windows 10 April 2018 Update, you need to check and ensure that your computer meets the system requirements for this update. Although most computers today have fairly good hardware suitable for the software, knowing the system requirements for installing the Windows 10 April 2018 Update is still essential.

Windows 10 April 2018 Update installation requirements

System requirements for installing Windows 10 April 2018 Update.

CẤU HÌNH CÀI WINDOWS 10 APRIL 2018 UPDATE

Thực hiện: Taimienphi.vn

Phần cứng	32-bit	64-bit
Bộ vi xử lý (Processor)	1GHz hoặc cao hơn hoặc SoC	1GHz hoặc cao hơn hoặc SoC
RAM	1GB	2GB
Dung lượng HDD	16GB	32GB
Card Đồ Họa	DirectX9 hoặc cao hơn với WDDM 1.0 driver	DirectX9 hoặc cao hơn với WDDM 1.0 driver
Độ phân giải màn hình	800x600	800x600
Kết nối Internet	Có	Có

Detailed system requirements for installing the Windows 10 April 2018 Update.

With the above configuration, your computer will need a processor with a speed of 1GHz or higher or a SoC (System-on-a-Chip) for both 32-bit and 64-bit versions, 1GB of RAM for the 32-bit version and 2GB for the 64-bit version, along with 16GB and 32GB of free storage for the 32-bit and 64-bit versions, respectively. Your computer must also have a graphics card that supports DirectX9 or higher with the WDDM 1.0 driver, your monitor must have a resolution of 800x600, and an internet connection is required during installation.

Checking your system requirements for the Windows 10 April 2018 Update is crucial to ensure your computer can install this update. Microsoft has provided users with many useful features in this latest update. Timeline, Activity History, Focus Assist, Nearby Sharing, Diagnostic data viewer, new Graphics Settings, and Delivery Optimization are some of the important features to note. To experience these features smoothly, your computer needs to meet the requirements mentioned above.

Hopefully, with the above article, you have been able to understand the configuration requirements for installing the Windows 10 April 2018 Update and update your Windows 10 to the latest version to experience its features.

You finished reading the article "System Requirements for installing Windows 10 April 2018 Update" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.
