

Windows App Studio update introduces many new additions

Microsoft today announced a number of new features for Windows App Studio Beta. More than a year ago, Windows App Studio Beta was released to attract Windows Phone developers, allowing users to quickly and easily create applications for Windows Phone and Windows.

Microsoft today announced a number of new features for Windows App Studio Beta. More than a year ago, Windows App Studio Beta was released to attract Windows Phone developers, allowing users to quickly and easily create applications for Windows Phone and Windows.

Here are some new features in Windows App Studio Beta:

1. Windows Phone 8.1 sideloading
2. Additional 9 new languages: Chinese, English, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Korean, Portuguese, Russian and Spanish
3. New Page Layouts
4. Static Collections and html
5. Data Bind in Design Time
6. PCL improvements

You can also check the full description of the new features at the link below:

1. Windows App Studio - Create free apps for Windows Phone, Tablet PCs and PCs | Microsoft

Since the release of Windows App Studio Beta more than 14 months ago, there have been about 2 million registered users.

Of the 2 million users, there are about 1 million product applications and 50,000 applications released on Windows and Windows Phone Store.

You finished reading the article "Windows App Studio update introduces many new additions" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.