

Xiaomi launches MIJIA C1 washing machine with Voice Control

Xiaomi's new MIJIA C1 washing machine is equipped with many unique features, with a washing volume of up to 10kg but comes with a price of only 2099 yuan.

Xiaomi has just launched a new model of washer dryer on Xiaomi Mall, full name is MIJIA 1C. This is considered an upgraded version of the MIJIA Internet washer model that was introduced last year.

Both have a maximum washing volume of 10kg. However, the control panel of MIJIA 1C is made from ABS plastic injection mold and synchronized with the body, while the screen of the MIJIA Internet washer is protected by tempered glass and is much stronger.

However, MIJIA 1C supports voice control via the virtual assistant XiaoAI - a feature that the previous model did not have. In addition, it also has a more compact design with 468mm door diameter, while the previous model has a wider door diameter of 480mm. This washer also has a capacity of 0.873 kWh, lower than the 0.96 kWh capacity on its predecessor.

Other specifications are basically the same. The MIJIA 1C washer dryer uses a high-quality BLDC inverter motor with extremely precise washing beat control. The engine operates stably and efficiently, saves power and runs smoother than the previous generation. It has a maximum spin speed of 1400 rpm, squeezes water and dries quickly.

The MIJIA C1 washing machine has up to 22 different washing modes. Users can fully schedule the laundry, as well as drying through the MIJIA application installed on the smartphone. In addition, you can also choose the washing and drying mode, saving the favorite settings for later use.

Self-condensing hot air drying technology helps to dry many clothes at the same time, constantly controlling the temperature so that the clothes dry evenly and softly without ironing. In addition, the machine also has a drum cleaning mode at 95 ° C with 99.9% disinfection rate.

As expected, MIJIA C1 washing machine will officially be sold in China from April 9, with a retail price of 2099 yuan.

You finished reading the article "Xiaomi launches MIJIA C1 washing machine with Voice Control" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.

---