

YouTube upgrades the new comment management system

Commenting on YouTube is difficult to manage and is often seen as a mess, to solve the problem, the company introduced a new tool that makes it easier for people to upload videos.

Commenting on YouTube is difficult to manage and is often seen as a "mess", to solve the problem, the company introduced a new tool that makes it easier for people to upload videos.

Starting today, users can manage comments on a separate page. On the management page, you can allow comments to appear, choose like or dislike , flag the report or delete .

You finished reading the article "YouTube upgrades the new comment management system" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.