Yunjin Genshin Impact will likely be a Wind damage buff character with the same buff as Bennett, with the main goal being to add a separate damage buff character for Wind.

There is a lot of speculation surrounding Yun Jin's upcoming debut in Genshin Impact as she is rumored to be one of the characters that could appear in Genshin Impact. Known as a character with many talents such as singing opera, dancing to making tea at Heyu Tea House.

If the rumors are true and Genshin Impact's Yun Jin is likely to be a playable character, there are many things players must consider. We know that developer Mihoyo recently revealed Yun Jin's character on their official Twitter page.

Yun Jin Genshin Impact Release Date and Skills

There is no official release date for Yun Jin in Genshin Impact. But with quite a lot of leaked information about Yunjin belonging to the Nham system and being able to use the spear before. Yunjin will probably be a Wind damage buff character with the same buff as Bennett because there have been many Yam characters before, with the main goal being to add a separate damage buff character for Wind.

Predicted Yunjin's elemental ability will probably create a wind circle to buff around (similar to Barbara) to help heal over time and increase Wind damage. Also increases with base attack.

Her Rage skill is similar to the elemental skill but has a greater impact and fixed area on the ground like Bennett. Yunjin C1 grants her additional wind damage from her fury skill. Yunjin C6 will automatically generate a wind energy particle for each basic attack/heavy hit/stab with 1 second cooldown.

Of course, the above information is not official yet and may change in the near future depending on Mihoyo. However, with the character launch information that Hihoyo recently released, it is likely that Yunjin will have the above skill sets.

Some previous rumors also hinted that Yun Jin would be a four-star character, but her rarity has yet to be confirmed. There are also hints that she could be a Dendro character. While this may seem hard to believe right now, it did make YunJin the first playable character with dendro vision in the game.
